Art for Charity continues to support artists under the steady hand of Jeannette Meinl. During the pandemic, not being able to perform has been challenging financially as theatres have remained shut for almost a year.

It is with pleasure we invite you to this unique event: George Bernhard Shaw's unforgettable play Pygmalion read by professional English-speaking actors based in Vienna.

ALL PROCEEDS will go solely to the artists.

SYNOPSIS of the piece

A beautiful late afternoon awaits you in...

London's popular Covent Garden, 1890, evening. The West End shows have ended and the who's who of London society is pouring out onto the wet streets. In the fog, poor Eliza Doolittle is selling her flowers in front of the Royal Opera House, loudly, in her finest cockney accent. A phonetics professor, Professor Higgins, overhears her and makes fun of it. He bets with his colleague Pickering that in six months he could teach this girl such good English, she could pretend to be a duchess at an ambassador's garden party.

At first outraged, then fascinated, Eliza seizes the opportunity to better herself. Turning up on Higgin's doorstep the very next day, the bet begins and an odyssey starts as she attempts to learn "proper English" – and good manners. Now she must find a way to navigate this new, strange world. Will her dreams come true?

Enjoy Shaw's famous social satire, as a wonderful, staged reading, augmented with much-loved music. Share this memorable afternoon, with the actors and us, in a beautiful Baroque setting.
