

WHAT THE STARS TELL US ABOUT TWO PRESIDENTS

The Birth charts of Presidents Putin and Trump

President Vladimir PUTIN

7 October 1952, 9:30 am, St. Petersburg

The wolf in sheep's clothing. Sun, Saturn, Mercury and Neptune in the sign of Libra = charm, striving for harmony, balance, sense of beauty

BUT...

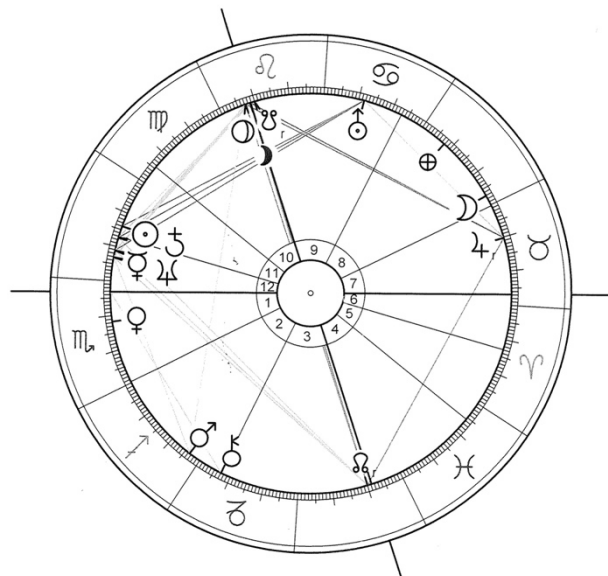

Uranus in the sign of Cancer is in a tense aspect to the planets in the sign of Libra. Insults due to a lack of attention, unfulfilled desires, unachieved goals can 'wake the wolf', the desire for power, uncompromisingness, aggression...

Saturn, Neptune and Mercury in the sign of Libra are in the 12th house (= retreat, subconscious, the 'hidden', among other things) – he was not only in the secret service in the past, he pulls the strings in secret, does not show his hand. 'Poker face' – with Libra charm... behind which, like a volcano, it is bubbling...

BECAUSE...

Ascendant and Venus in Scorpio: strength of will, passion, 'control compulsion', possibly also vindictiveness and Pluto in Leo at the head of the house of success = ruling, never-ending hunger for power - uncompromisingly!!! Mars in Sagittarius (sense of justice, combative nature, enthusiasm for sports) still strengthens Pluto in Leo! He fights to achieve his goals – and: every means is justified for him!!!

President Donald TRUMP

14 June 1946, 10:54 am New York

Sun in Gemini in the House of Success, Ascendant in Leo = success, joy of communication, versatility, pride and assertiveness. Sounds promising, doesn't it?

BUT...

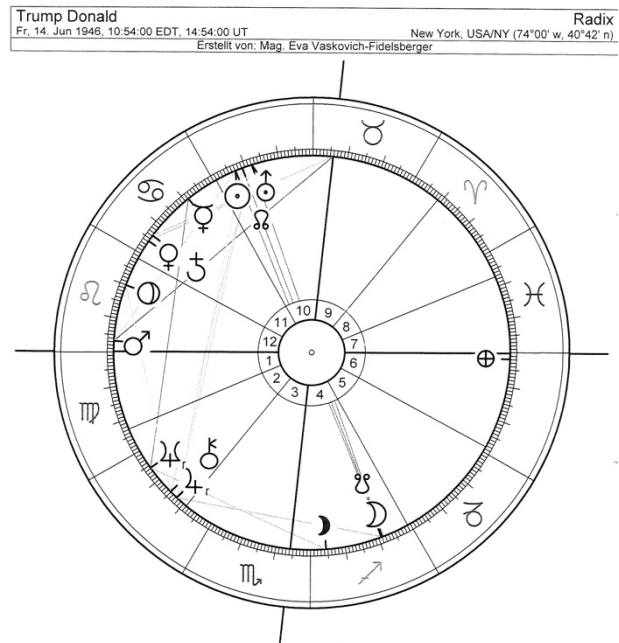

Not only the ascendant but also Mars and Pluto are in the sign of Leo: a self-promoter with a claim to power and leadership. 'And if you are not willing, then I need force.' (Goethe, Erlkönig)

Mercury and Saturn in conjunction with Venus in Cancer = strong feelings (but inhibited by Saturn – hence frequent coldness), love of home but also sensitivity and being easily offended. With the planets and the ascendant in the sign of Leo, however, one must not admit any weaknesses and show feelings...

Uranus is conjunct the Sun in the sign of Gemini in the house of success. Yes, he is interested in new things, he is good at selling them, he is innovative and creative – but: erratic and unpredictable. Uranus principle: 'nothing is fixed' Moon in the sign of Sagittarius in a tense aspect to the Sun and Uranus reinforces this tendency. Why isn't more porcelain smashed? Jupiter in Libra repeatedly defuses the minefield of tension constellations – in the end, he is almost a 'Jack of all trades'...

Compatibility of the horoscopes of Putin and Trump

Libra and Gemini are a perfect match. With their communication skills, negotiating skills, inventiveness and flexibility, they could achieve a lot of positive things together. The Mars energies, willpower and implementation of plans also harmonise. Jupiter in the Libra sign in Donald Trump's horoscope is conjunct with Putin's Sun, etc. But there are also thorns in the side of the rose.

Mars in the sign Sagittarius in Putin's horoscope forms tension aspects to the Sun and Moon in Trump's horoscope (= unrest, stress for him), the Saturn energies disharmonise (= alienation) - and now power, the struggle for supremacy - politically and economically - comes into play: Mars in the sign of Leo on the ascendant in Trump's horoscope forms a tense aspect to Pluto in the sign of Leo in Putin's house of success – see also: birth horoscopes of Trump and Putin.

The Year 2025

By the beginning of June 2025, Jupiter in the sign Gemini – since favourable aspects to the signs Libra and Gemini promote a willingness to negotiate – could possibly even bring results, but the ice is thin. The gloomy background music is not only Saturn in the sign Gemini (tension aspects to the Sun and Uranus, also to the Moon in the horoscope of Trump and to Mars in the sign Sagittarius in the horoscope of Putin), but also Uranus in the sign Taurus (= tension aspects to the constellations in the sign Leo) and Mars in the sign Leo (from the end of May to mid-June). In autumn, the tense aspects of Uranus and Saturn are acute again – but without the safety net of Jupiter.

Despite various problematic constellations and tensions, the stars do not coerce – they merely show strengths and weaknesses, possibilities and dangers. We have free will to make the best of both our birth horoscope and the current planetary constellations for ourselves and our fellow human beings, to take advantage of opportunities and to cope with challenges.
